

News From MTI

Hello Mass Timber Colleagues!

TimberCon October 2021

Thank you to all who participated in TimberCon October 2021! Special thanks to the Architect's Newspaper for co-hosting, Dionne Darling, VP of Brand Partnerships, and the Daniels Faculty's Dean Juan Du for kicking off the conference. Thank you also to our excellent lineup of speakers including representatives from academia and leading architecture, design, and engineering firms for making this a successful conference.

Key discussions included examining the relationship between the forest and building, the forest industry and its social license to operate, the ethical implications of forestry and architecture, regenerative architecture and using timber as an Elder in Indigenous narratives, and the value proposition for mass timber as infrastructure, including bridges, parking structures, and bus terminals.

We look forward to collaborating with the Architect's newspaper on the next conference.
