

A photograph of the Spreefeld development in Berlin, Germany. The scene is captured at dusk or dawn, with a calm body of water in the foreground reflecting the buildings and sky. In the background, several modern, multi-story apartment buildings with balconies are visible. To the right, a construction site is active, featuring a tall crane and a building under construction with visible scaffolding. The overall atmosphere is serene and urban.

Spreefeld

Berlin, Germany

A photograph of a cityscape at dusk or dawn. In the foreground, there is a body of water reflecting the sky and buildings. The middle ground features several modern, multi-story apartment buildings with balconies, some of which are illuminated from within. To the right, a construction site is visible, with a tall crane and a building under construction. In the background, there are industrial structures, including a tall chimney. The sky is a pale, hazy blue. The overall scene suggests a mix of modern urban development and industrial heritage.

A City of Available Land

Berlin was Heavily Bombed during WW2 leaving ample space for new housing

1953

When the Berlin Wall Fell, there were large swaths of industrial land left throughout the city.
